DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions that are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

- I. Group I, claim(s) 12-22, drawn to a method.
- II. Group II, claim(s) 1-11, drawn to a solid-state imaging device.

The inventions listed as groups I-II do not relate to a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature for the following reason:

The Group I "invention," represented by claim 12, is totally lacking in novelty, as it is anticipated by the same method as disclosed in Ogawa 6,104,021 (cited by applicant 5/25/05).

Ogawa discloses a method for manufacturing a solid-state imaging device comprising the steps of: forming a plurality of light-receiving portions 30 on the surface of a substrate 36; forming wirings 33 on both sides of each of said light-receiving portions 30; forming a first insulation layer 38 having a first refractive index; etching said first insulation layer 38 by using an etching mask 40 and forming a concave portion 38a above each of said light-receiving portions 30; and forming a second insulation layer 32 with a second refractive index to bury said concave portion 38a. Note figures 4, 5A-C, column 5 lines 7-51, and column 7 lines 43-47. These are all the features of the Group I invention.

Because each and every feature of the Group I invention is anticipated by Ogawa, it follows that there is absolutely no feature of the Group I invention that qualifies as a "special technical feature" within the meaning of rule 13.2 (recall that rule 13.2 requires a "special technical feature" to be novel). Because there are absolutely no special technical features in the Group I invention, it follows that the Group I invention can have no special technical features that are the same or correspond to any of the special technical features of the Group II invention.

2. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.
